The invention relates to a liquid embolizate, especially for the occlusion of vascular malformations. The liquid embolizate is made of 20-80% v/v of an occlusion mixture which contains a zein emulsion in aqueous ethanol, 10-40% v/v of a radiopaque contrast medium in liquid form and 10-40% v/v of ethanol. The components are supplied separately in a kit and are mixed immediately before application to form a homogeneous emulsion. The invention also relates to a method of producing the liquid embolizate and to the use of the liquid embolizate.
